The 13th International Functional Endoscopic Sinus Surgery (FESS) Course takes place at NeuroLab, Athens, on 3–4 December 2026.

Through lectures, discussions and step-by-step cadaveric dissection demonstrations, participants gain practical insight into FESS techniques that can be applied directly in their clinical practice.

Fresh-frozen specimens; Full HD (1080p) cameras for every trainee and 4K for surgical demonstrations; endoscopic drills and shavers; 14 hours of hands-on training; step-by-step demonstration and application on the specimen; dissection manual and teaching videos from the faculty.

Participant evaluation 2025: “I would recommend it to colleagues” – 9.44 / 10.

Registration fee: EUR 800 + VAT. Registration is completed upon payment.

Certificate of attendance according to EACCME–UEMS criteria. CME–CPD credits awarded by the Panhellenic Medical Association (number to be announced).
